CATEC Rumen Top

"The combination of live yeast and buffer substances promotes the balance of the rumen and intestinal ecosystem and stabilizes the microbial rumen flora."

- creates optimal conditions for the microorganisms
- Maximisation of microbial protein, the best protein source for the cow
- higher basic feed performance through increased feed intake and nutrient utilization
- supports stress tolerance: stable performance even with feed changes, heat stress, etc.
- metabolic relief and improvement of intestinal health
- neutralisation of acids in the rumen and reduction of the risk of acidosis
